

Brainstorms.....

With Ferrin Cox

City elections are over except for a runoff in Elba, possibly two runoffs in New Brockton, and one in Enterprise. Kinston is finished and can now concentrate on selecting candidates for county commission.

The importance of an individual voter was strongly emphasized Tuesday in Kinston where Billy Mullins won by two votes. Billy is the grandson of long-time Elba mayor L.P. Mullins, and therefore is surely no novice at politics. However, even that didn't assure him a big win over his fellow councilman seeking the office.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled this week that draft registration can be a requirement for young men wanting government loans to go to college. We could get awfully upset over the idea of anyone thinking it is their "right" to take from a government they are not willing to defend. We have gone too far with our idea of "a chicken in every pot" when people think it their right to have the chicken given to them without work, etc. What a strong America should furnish is a chance to EARN a chicken in every pot, help for those unable to help themselves, and the back of our hand to those too sorry to try to help themselves.

We announced last week that we planned to enjoy the Fourth by fishing, eating, etc., just as the notion struck us. Well, we did just that. We fished, ate, read a good book in the shade of a tree on the lake shore and took a nap when the notion struck us to do so. The fishing was a success - in fact - well, we hesitate to mention this because of the doubting Thomases, but we actually have a touch of "tennis elbow"! We notice it when we shake hands with someone or try to pick up something with our right arm. But it was fun getting it.

The Coffee County Democratic candidates have ended their qualifying. It is unusual but candidates for constable in Beat 6 almost equal those seeking the District 3 commission seat. We don't know what made the slot so interesting, but something sure did.

We have some opinions about Yelverton Street, which is one way by the post office. The city council has voted to change the direction, but has delayed any action until they study the matter further. First, we feel the best solution is to move the post office. Since that isn't likely, we would vote to leave it like it is. We realize there are problems with the present situation, but we remember it was tried the other way years ago and that also created problems. We do believe the suggestion of replacing the solid wall along Highway 84 with a railing would help the situation and feel it would help whichever way the city fathers decide to direct the traffic on Yelverton Street.

We had a complaint from a New Brockton citizen about the lineup of candidates on the ballot. Well, the law doesn't require the names to be alphabetical, even though most ballots usually are that way. We talked with New Brockton city clerk Peggy Butler and she explained that it was an error by the printer. They told Mrs. Butler they would reprint the ballots, but at that time it was too late. Mrs. Butler said she hoped no one was really upset over the matter, as it was an inadvertent error by the printer and wasn't intended to slight any candidate.

County Candidates Announce Intentions To Run

The Elba girls' softball league All-Stars competed in the district tournament last weekend in Geneva and finished in a tie for fifth place in the 11-team event. The girls lost to Troy and Dothan, but defeated Enterprise to claim the fifth-place honors. The girls' league had a good season and their showing in the district tourney should help the league get even better next year.

The 13-year-old Babe Ruth All-Stars lost two straight games in their tourney, but gave it all they had and never gave up. The team only had a handful of players and most saw only limited action during the season; however, they practiced hard and represented the town well.

The men's softball league is now in its third and final round, and I look for the action to be really hot during the next couple of weeks. All the teams have improved a great deal and I've just got a hunch we'll see upsets every night. Come out on any Monday, Tuesday and Thursday night and watch a game. It beats reruns!

The Elba Athletic Club will meet next week to start its sale of ads for the football program, and everyone who wants to help is urged to attend. The ad sales bring in approximately $12,000 a year, and every penny goes directly to the school to help all the athletic teams and cheerleaders. The Elba Athletic Club needs you to be a success, so make plans to attend this very important meeting.

Area High School Counselors To Attend Workshop

John C. Windham and John W. Sharpless, counselors for Elba High School and Mrs. Melinda W. Sanders of Zion Chapel, will be attending a high school Counselor Workshop sponsored by the University of South Alabama, Mobile, and the Southeast Regional Office of the American College Testing Program.

This unique workshop, being held July 20-31 on the USA campus is being conducted so that high school counselors can enhance their knowledge of the college admissions process.

According to Dr. J.D. Stearns, director of Admissions and Records at USA, the counselors will be able to better advise and work with college bound students in all phases of the admissions, testing and financial aid process.

Stearns emphasized that national commissions studying education in the United States have recently emphasized closer ties between high schools and colleges and universities.

Wayne Teague, State Superintendent of Education, has also expressed his wish for more communication between the two. Stearns pointed out that USE is very interested in forging a stronger partnership between the high schools from all over the state and the University.

"Counselors are confronted with many issues that demand a lot of understanding in order to give proper guidance to those students interested in college. Our workshop is designed to help them."

The workshop faculty will address such topics as financial aid

"Reaching For New Horizons" By S.S. Belcher

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: No! He was not ahead of his time. No man is ahead of his time. Each man must respond to the call of God in his own time and not in somebody else's.

—Dr. Benjamin Mays

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: If any man speak, let him speak as of the oracles of God; if any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth; that God in ALL things may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom be praise and dominion forever and ever. Amen.

—1 Peter 4:11

Mr. Debra Clark, her son, D.J., her mother, Mrs. Corne Wilkerson and aunt, Carolyn Blake, had a very pleasurable trip to the Bahamas recently. They drove to Miami, where they boarded their ship The Scandinavian Sun. While vacationing in Florida, they visited Cape Kennedy and Cocoa World in Orlando, spent some time in Panama City visiting family and friends and attended a family reunion in Pensacola.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bobby J. Guley on their marriage. (Details of wedding next week.)

Congratulations to Mrs. Margaret (Judy) Rowe on her new job promotion as a sales representative to Troy State and Alabama State. She has been very lucky - she also caught the bride bouquet at the Guleys' wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Foster of Baltimore, Maryland, was home recently visiting Mr. Foster's sister (Mrs. Eunice V. Johnson) and friends. The Fosters said they were very happy to be home again and proud to see that Elba was progressing. While enjoying a pleasant conversation with Mrs. Foster, I found her to be laudable for her success in life. She owns a day nursery, having been in the nursery business for 24 years. She is also the executive director of the nursery.

Her husband, Harrison, retired after 28 years in the U.S. Army and had been the accountant for the business for the past 15 years. Mrs. Foster showed pictures of their beautiful home, William Dorell Shafter (mayor of Baltimore) present during a luncheon. The luncheon was an event for the annual Association of Affairs of the West Arlington area.

After the luncheon, Mr. Shafter to the Fosters stated, "I had a most enjoyable day - your house and yard were beautiful, and show great pride and dedication on your part."

The Fosters visited Russia last year on vacation and decided to come home to Elba this year to see his sister, Mrs. Johnson, and close friends, Mr. and Mrs. Willie J. Stinson. The Stinsons, formerly of Baltimore, moved back to Elba after being gone for 40 years.

Miss Falsia Robinson will become the bride of Abdel Bilal this Saturday, July 14, at seven p.m. at the New Zion Baptist Church. Reception will follow the ceremony. All friends and relatives are invited.

The Elba Rescue Squad needs CAPABLE and DEPENDABLE people. Can you spare some of your time to help someone in need of help? If so, please contact Mr. Charles Faris at Cook Chevrolet.

This month's yard recognition goes to Mrs. Martha Robinson of Kennedy Estates.

Our deepest sympathy to the Hill family and to Mrs. Roberta Magwood in the loss of their loved ones.

EXERCISE FOR THE WEEK: Stand straight, feet apart, arms stretched out just below shoulder level. Pull abdomen in, hips facing front. Twist upper body to right. Return to center. Twist upper body to left without turning hips. Return. Do 16 times from side to side. Don't forget your music, a little Michael Jackson maybe. Try "Beat It."

TOPIC FOR THE WEEK: History of Mt. Zora Baptist Church, located on Taylor Mill Road, written by Rev. E. Magwood, spiritual overseer.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bobby J. Guley on their marriage. (Details of wedding next week.)

Congratulations to Mrs. Margaret (Judy) Rowe on her new job promotion as a sales representative to Troy State and Alabama State. She has been very lucky - she also caught the bride bouquet at the Guleys' wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Foster of Baltimore, Maryland, was home recently visiting Mr. Foster's sister (Mrs. Eunice V. Johnson) and friends. The Fosters said they were very happy to be home again and proud to see that Elba was progressing. While enjoying a pleasant conversation with Mrs. Foster, I found her to be laudable for her success in life. She owns a day nursery, having been in the nursery business for 24 years. She is also the executive director of the nursery.

Her husband, Harrison, retired after 28 years in the U.S. Army and had been the accountant for the business for the past 15 years. Mrs. Foster showed pictures of their beautiful home, William Dorell Shafter (mayor of Baltimore) present during a luncheon. The luncheon was an event for the annual Association of Affairs of the West Arlington area.

After the luncheon, Mr. Shafter to the Fosters stated, "I had a most enjoyable day - your house and yard were beautiful, and show great pride and dedication on your part."

The Fosters visited Russia last year on vacation and decided to come home to Elba this year to see his sister, Mrs. Johnson, and close friends, Mr. and Mrs. Willie J. Stinson. The Stinsons, formerly of Baltimore, moved back to Elba after being gone for 40 years.

Miss Falsia Robinson will become the bride of Abdel Bilal this Saturday, July 14, at seven p.m. at the New Zion Baptist Church. Reception will follow the ceremony. All friends and relatives are invited.

The Elba Rescue Squad needs CAPABLE and DEPENDABLE people. Can you spare some of your time to help someone in need of help? If so, please contact Mr. Charles Faris at Cook Chevrolet.

This month's yard recognition goes to Mrs. Martha Robinson of Kennedy Estates.

Our deepest sympathy to the Hill family and to Mrs. Roberta Magwood in the loss of their loved ones.

Campers Be Mindful Of Trees

This is the time of year when most people like to take a break from their everyday routine and take a vacation. A favorite pastime for many people is camping. A lot of us like to put up a tent and spend a couple of nights or just a single day out in the woods. Our forests offer many beautiful sights and sounds for the weekend backpacker, the overnight fisherman, or the serious camper outdoorsman. There are some rules that should be followed however, to help preserve the beauty and health of the trees in our forests. Crown trees look big and tough. But like people, trees are susceptible to many diseases. Young trees are also susceptible to serious physical injury.

One of the best ways to help trees stay healthy is to prevent wounds. Opening trees to infection by a wide variety of destructive organisms, starts the processes that could lead to disease and decay. Some rules to follow to prevent tree wounds are:

- 1) Never cut into a tree with an axe, saw, or knife.
- 2) Don't build campfires near tree trunks or under overhanging limbs.
- 3) Never shoot into or throw rocks against or drive nails into a tree.
- 4) Don't bend or break branches or tops from young trees.
- 5) Never leave rope or chain or wire tied around a tree trunk or limb. Also never place an excessive load upon a tree or limb with a rope or anything that will injure the bark.
- 6) Avoid any action that would skin or peel bark from a tree.

Yes, trees are big and tough. But a series of wounds—even small ones—over a period of time can cause rot, leading to hazardous and unsightly trees, or even early death. Remember, trees are living things too.

New Hope Junior High School To Close

The Coffee County Board of Education announced this week that New Hope Junior High School would not open for classes this fall, and that all students would be sent to either the Zion Chapel or New Brockton.

The vote to close the rural school was 3-2, with board members Tom Dyess and Preston Kelley Jr. voting against the motion. Voting for the closing were Bill Boland, Harrell Carroll and Frank Britt.

"It was the hardest decision I have ever had to make as superintendent," stated John W. Vaughan, superintendent of the Coffee County School System, "and the board members all gave it a great deal of thought. It was a decision we all had to make, but it simply had to be done."

"The decision to close the New Hope School was based solely on what was best for the students," added Supt. Vaughan. "Because of the declining enrollment, the Board of Education was faced with the difficult decision of consolidating New Hope with both Zion Chapel and New Brockton. Because of the level of enrollment, the decision to close the school was the only alternative that was educationally sound."

"Every parent in the New Hope Community can be assured their child will receive quality education that is second to none in this state. I know the parents want the best for their children and that is all I want and all the board wants. Together, we can see to it that the children get just that."

The declining enrollment at New Hope Junior High has been most evident in recent years, as the following chart of student population reveals:

Student Enrollment at New Hope Junior High School

1975 - 257 (1-9)	7
1976 - 237 (1-9)	9
1977 - 230 (1-9)	14
1978 - 235 (K-9)	18
1979 - 233 (K-9)	20
1980 - 244 (K-9)	19
1981 - 241 (K-9)	17
1982 - 225 (K-9)	16

Pensions & Security Dept. Collects

$705,000 In Child Support Funds

In the first quarter of 1984, the Department of Pensions and Security collected more than $705,000 in child support from absent parents whose families did not apply for Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) benefits.

The department's non-ADC case load is growing, and one reason is because of increased public awareness of the fact that the service is available through the agency.

"More people are becoming aware that, just as we take action to collect child support from absent parents in ADC cases, we provide the same services in instances where Aid to Dependent Children benefits are not being sought," said Leon Frazier, commissioner of the state Department of Pensions and Security.

Those services provided to ADC and non-ADC clients include assistance in locating absent parents, paternity determination, obtaining a court order requiring child support, and the collection of child support after the court order has been issued.

It is in the department's interest to handle non-ADC cases because, by doing so, we lessen the chances that these families will have to apply for public assistance in the future," Frazier said.

At one time, there was a small fee charged to provide the service, but it has been available free of charge since last November, Frazier said.

"Persons who would like assistance in securing child support should contact their local Department of Pensions and Security to make an appointment," said Frazier.

The student population had declined to such an extent that the school would not have been able to maintain a level of basic educational standards," Vaughan stated. "The low enrollment would have meant loss of teachers and combining of grades. This just was not best for the students."

"If the school had remained open the students at New Hope would have been at an educational disadvantage. The reason for the decline in enrollment is the decline in the birth rate, as well as a population shift to cities, and the fact that some parents have sent their children to other schools."

"The people in New Hope have been aware of the decline in student population and many expected the school to close last year. The decision to close was delayed in hopes enrollment would increase, but it just never did."

Following is the projected enrollment at New Hope had the school opened for the 1984-85 school year:

Kindergarten	7
First Grade	9
Second Grade	14
Third Grade	18
Fourth Grade	20
Fifth Grade	19
Sixth Grade	17
Seventh Grade	16
Eighth Grade	16
Ninth Grade	16

"We considered keeping the school open to serve grades K-6," added Vaughan. "But the low number of students (98) would have earned only 5 1/2 teacher units, and five or even six teachers could not have taught seven classes. As the figures show, the decision to close New Hope was based on educational needs - not just economics."

The closing of the New Hope School has been widely rumored for several years; however, Supt. Vaughan denied any previous plans to close the school, and pointed to recent renovations at the school.

"In the past five years there has been more money spent at New Hope for renovations than ever before," Vaughan said. "It is true, the State Department of Education had been recommending closing the school for years, but the student population was sufficient and the county school board voted to keep it open. I don't regret the large expenditure of funds at all; the school was open - and we all want the best for the children."

"The transfer to Zion Chapel or New Brockton will mean a slight increase in bus travel for elementary students," Vaughan said, "but the time spent on a bus will not be unreasonable for any student. An adult or student monitor will keep an eye on the younger students on every bus to insure they are comfortable. The facilities at both Zion Chapel and New Brockton are more than adequate to house the extra students, and I believe the students will receive a better education after consolidation."

The advantages Supt. Vaughan listed in consolidation included an increase in classes offered at the larger schools. These additional classes include home economics, band and a foreign language, as well as a chance to participate in junior high football.

The board will finalize a change in school districts this week," explained Vaughan, "and it is estimated 30-35 New Hope students will be rezoned to New Brockton. The new district lines will go into effect this year; however, a student entering 11th or 12th grade at Zion Chapel who lives in the New Brockton zone will be allowed to graduate from Zion Chapel."

When asked about the teachers at New Hope, Supt. Vaughan reported, "All tenured personnel will have a position in the county system," including support personnel (bus drivers, cooks, etc.). The teachers will be given similar positions at other schools, and all efforts will be made to find spots for the non-tenured workers."

The closing of New Hope will leave only one rural junior high in the county, it being located at Goodman. The Goodman student population has not declined in recent years and projections actually show an expected increase in enrollment due to a population shift to the area. Unless a major population change occurs, there are no plans for discussion on closing the school.

In closing, Supt. Vaughan stated, "Somewhere from the county office or personally contact every parent in the New Hope area to explain the consolidation and make the transition as smooth as possible."

The disposal of the school property will be conducted as prescribed by state regulations; however, it was the sentiment of the board that the facility be used by the community, if possible.

Donald and Douglas Ard are both serving life sentences in the case.

The new trial was made necessary recently when the Alabama Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a previous decision due to errors in the original trial.

In ordering the new trial, the Appeals Court pointed out a statement made by the late district attorney Lewey Stephens about Mrs. Tucker during the trial, and also pointed out the fact that a person included in the jury venire was related to a state witness.

Tucker was one of three persons charged with murder for hire in the death of her husband, may soon be returning to Coffee County to stand trial a second time.

Indian Education Program To Be Taught In

Coffee County School System This Fall

The addition of two federal programs has been announced for implementation in the Coffee County School System.

An "Indian Education Program" will be started to teach the Indian culture in the school system. The program, which will be federally funded, was made available due to the large number of students (200-300) in the system with an Indian ancestry. The program will include the teaching of all Indian culture, including music, art and the history of Indians in Coffee County.

A second program, the "Migrant Education Program", will provide funds to properly educate the children of parents who travel due to employment with the agricultural industry.
